

Roy Kufalk thought it was his last day on the job when this picture was taken, and he smiled with pleasure as he anticipated his leisure time.

No Xmas Rush For Roy Kufalk?

The following story was written Tuesday, supposedly Roy Kufalk's last day as postmaster at the Antioch post office.

"The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a-gley," said Robert Burns some time ago. And so it proved to be, concerning Roy's retirement and our story on it.

At 4 p.m. Tuesday, when Roy should have been looking forward to sleeping late the next day, he decided his retirement was temporarily off. No appointment had come through, there was no one to take his place, and he has no choice but to stay on the job until such time as he is officially replaced.

Good luck, Roy. You'll get to go fishing yet. And now you may proceed with his retirement story.

Tuesday, November 30, was Roy Kufalk's last day at the Antioch post office, after forty years of working there. Roy retired as of that date.

He's not sorry to drop the daily round, Roy says, though he expects to miss it at times. His wife, Ida, will be very happy to have him home more, and they expect to do a little traveling and make good use of their leisure.

"Actually, the first year was the hardest," Roy says. "I was raised on a farm and I found it hard to get used to being inside all the time. That first year dragged—five years sounded like a lifetime."

"Then, after the kids were born, the time flew. First thing I knew they were in high school. Now I have eight grandchildren. The oldest is in seventh grade."

Roy intends to keep on with his weather-reporting, at least for the present. Radio station WKRS calls him each morning for the official temperature.

Roy has probably made some records in post office history in his forty years on the job. He went in as a regular clerk on October 15, 1926, without even serving as a substitute. He has piled up 3,224 hours of sick leave during the forty years. Retiring, the sick leave will simply be wiped off the books.

"No work tomorrow." That's what Roy Kufalk thought Tuesday—but the appointment for a new Postmaster failed to come through, and Roy was back on the job Wednesday morning.

The Pershing Supply Dept. recently retired 15 employees. The largest sick leave accumulated by any employee was 2,500 hours.

When Roy became Postmaster in 1940, he was not credited with the 140 days sick leave he had accumulated as a clerk. Fifteen years later, when he was hospitalized with a heart attack, he determined to try again to get credit for the earlier sick leave in case he needed it.

After correspondence with Washington and local officials, the 140 days were restored on his record.

Yearly business at the post office when Roy first worked there was $8,000. He's seen it grow to a probable $200,000 this year. There were three rural routes, now there are five, and three city routes.

"I'm glad I don't have to worry about the Christmas rush this year," Roy says. "No, I'm not sorry to retire."

Local Girl On National Radio

Judy Lynne Turner, daughter of the O. W. Turners of Rte. 2, Antioch, will appear on the national radio program, "National Radio Pulpit," on four Sundays in December as a member of the Illinois Wesleyan University Collegiate Choir.

The program is heard at various times between 7 a.m. and noon Sundays on most National Broadcasting Company affiliated stations. Local stations should be consulted for correct time.

Each program during December will include two hymns and one anthem recorded by the Wesleyan Choir. The students remained on campus on Nov. 14 in order to prepare the program on tape recordings.

"National Radio Pulpit" is one of the oldest and best known religious radio programs. The Rev. Ralph W. Sockmen and the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick have appeared often on the program.

David Nott, assistant professor of voice and choral music at IWU, conducts the choir. He selected and arranged nine hymns and four anthems for the four programs. Most of the music is Advent and Christmas Music.

College and University choirs appear regularly on the program, but usually only for one or two weeks in succession, according to Mr. Nott.

The IWU Collegiate Choir has established its reputation through many concerts and tours through the East and Midwest. Recent reviews in "Musical America" and "Musical Courier" have established the IWU Choir as one of the "exceptional performers of temporary literature."

Declare Lake County Brucellosis-Free

Lake County is the first county in the state to be certified as Brucellosis-free.

Brucellosis is a disease of both man and animals. In man, it's a long, debilitating illness known as undulant fever. In cattle and swine it's commonly known as Bang's disease.

Ceremonies recognizing Lake County's accomplishment will take place in the Board room of the County building, Waukegan, at 11 a.m. on Dec. 14. Officials from Springfield and Washington representing the Illinois State Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Agriculture will present the Brucellosis-free certificate to Kenneth A. Huke, Chairman of the Lake County Board of Supervisors.

"The disease is a serious health problem in man and a major economic problem to the agricultural industry. As a result, a program to eradicate it was initiated. The certification of Lake County as Brucellosis-free is tangible evidence that this program has been effective. Less tangible but of even greater importance are the needless illness and economic losses that have been prevented."

Dr. SIMS says... SAFEGUARD YOUR HEALTH

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE ILLINOIS STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY

WHEN A DISC SLIPS

How many persons have you known who complain about a "bad back"? Plenty, no doubt. Along with those "bad back" complaints, you probably hear the reason given for them as a "slipped disc."

If you're like most people, when you hear about that "slipped disc," you just nod your head in understanding. But possibly you don't really know what a disc is in the first place, let alone a "slipped" one.

A disc is an elastic structure composed of a strong fibrous wall of tissue which encloses a softer spongy material. Located between the vertebrae (individual bones that make up the spinal column), it serves double duty—as a joint to permit movement and a cushioning shock absorber to protect the vertebrae and the nerves which come between them.

A "slipped" disc occurs when this intervertebral structure weakens and loses its elasticity. The main factor responsible for this breakdown is natural aging which causes the fibrous tissue of the disc to degenerate and fray. But, occasionally, it may be brought about by a single violent body movement, or constant stress and strain on the back, especially from lifting.

When these conditions weaken the wall of the disc, the wall bulges—like an auto tire with a weak spot—and pushes a nerve root against the spinal column.

In some cases, the wall eventually ruptures or tears, and allows the soft material inside the disc to ooze through. This oozing out process (which accounts for the popular name "slipped" disc) also brings pressure on the nerves.

Since the nerve roots are directly involved, intense pain is usually felt in the lower back (lumbar region) and in your legs. But, fortunately, this pain is often eased or eliminated without surgery.

If the patient is put to bed, and, sometimes, in traction for one to three weeks, his pain may be relieved permanently. For, by restricting body movement, bed rest and traction give the damaged disc time to heal without being strained again. Some people also respond to corrective exercises and corrective jackets.

However, if these treatments don't relieve the pain, or if it recurs, surgery may be the only satisfactory answer. One of two fairly safe and routine surgical procedures is used. In the first, the soft spongy material that has oozed through the disc wall is scraped out. In the second, after the material is cleaned out, the vertebrae above and below the disc are fused together with bone graft.

If you should suffer distressing pain in your lower back or leg due to a "slipped" disc or perhaps some other cause, seek medical assistance immediately. Whatever you do, don't submit to back "adjustments." It can make matters worse.

TICS: SIGN OF HIDDEN CONFLICTS

One day, following a family crisis, four-year-old Bobby developed the peculiar habit of blinking his eyes and squinting. This nervous mannerism—referred to as a tic—enabled him to see, yet not to see his father's scarred face. The blinking didn't stop there. It continued as an automatic and unconscious habit which soon interfered with his vision.

Tics—whether they take the form of blinking, lip puckering, twitching or sniffing—should never be taken as a simple meaningless habit. They may indicate a serious emotional problem.

Most tics are caused by anxiety—over a conflict between what a child wants to do and what he feels he shouldn't do. Often his conflict involves a desire to avoid a frightening or

Watch Out For Carbon Monoxide

Carbon monoxide is a deadly enemy of the motorist, cautions the Chicago Motor Club.

This colorless, odorless, tasteless gas can become a sneaky killer in cold weather as even small doses of the lethal gas may cause an accident by slowing down driver reaction. The motor club points out that one part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal; one part of carbon monoxide in 1,700 parts of air can cause nausea.

Warning symptoms of carbon monoxide are nausea, drowsiness, headache, delayed braking reaction, faulty coordination and poor vision. When these reactions are noted, car occupants immediately should inhale deep breaths of fresh air.

Carbon monoxide is produced by imperfectly burned motor fuel. An excess may be produced by faulty engine adjustment, but even the best adjusted engine may leak enough carbon monoxide to be fatal. Chief danger points are faulty gaskets, defective exhaust systems, and painful experience, as in the case of four-year-old Bobby. But usually tics are caused by much lesser anxieties, such as fear of displeasing a parent or failing a test in school.

Releasing anxiety in the form of a tic is a child's way of releasing tensions he has built up in his mind, thus eliminating some of his mental suffering. If the tic is allowed to continue, however, it may increase his nervousness.

Many children push conflicts into their subconscious and are not aware of it; they are just as puzzled by their nervous mannerism as their parents. And, if efforts are made to eliminate the tic without discovering the conflict, a whole new series of nervous mannerisms might appear to replace it. That's why it is so important to seek medical assistance at the first sign of a tic.

So, if your child has developed a nervous mannerism, let a physician examine him and analyze the problem. Once the doctor uncovers your child's anxiety, he can help him overcome his conflict and eliminate the nervous tic permanently.

Less Parcel Damage Aim Of P.O.

New steps to reduce damage permanently will also help reduce parcel post casualties this Christmas, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien reported today.

The drive on damage, part of a long-range program for improvement of the parcel post service, includes these steps:

1. Issuance of 2½ million pamphlets on or about Nov. 25 to the larger first class post offices giving simple rules and illustrations on how to package properly.

2. Instructions to postmasters at larger post offices, which handle the bulk of parcel post, to establish organized activities to improve packaging techniques by mailers.

3. New regulations in the Postal Manual designed primarily to provide for postal clerks the latest information on packaging for mailing.

clogged exhaust pipes.

To avoid being overcome by carbon monoxide, the motor club's safety and traffic department recommends the following precautions:

—Never run a motor in a closed garage or other unventilated enclosure. Open all garage doors before starting the engine.

—Always keep on car window at least partially open to assure some air circulation.

—Shut off the motor if you are sitting in a parked car for more than a few minutes.

—Check your car's engine for proper combustion.

—Check all points of the exhaust system for leaks and stoppages.

—Remember, your car's exhaust pipe may become clogged by backing into a snow bank.

Overeating adds to the heart's work. Overeating followed by exertion is asking for trouble, the Chicago Heart Association warns. Remember, professional athletes eat lightly before they go into action, have their heavy meal afterward.

The new brochures, entitled "How to Pack and Wrap Parcels for Mailing," will be available upon request at many of the first class post offices late this month. The material in the pamphlet, providing step-by-step illustrations as well as written instructions, is excerpted from the new regulations in the Postal Manual, providing in handy form the official recommendations and rules on parcel mailings.

Postmaster General O'Brien also reported that recent studies have indicated that the principal cause of parcel damage is the inadequacy of closure tapes. The use of newer pressure-sensitive, plastic and fiber-containing tapes is a typical recommendation to be passed along to mailers to reduce parcel damage.

The new regulations in the Postal Manual will specify minimum packaging requirements for safety in mailing, provide information for postal clerks on the best packaging materials, illustrate the best techniques for various types of bulk mailings and bring together in comprehensive form all of the pertinent rules and information applying to mailing of parcels.

While the new steps are designed for the individual mailing a single package as well as the large volume parcel mailers, the principal

Awe was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town!

Donder and Blitzen don't get to make the trip till Christmas Eve, but Santa Claus will visit Antioch Saturday, December 4, opening the Christmas season in earnest.

Santa's helicopter will land

A gaily-decorated Christmas tree will be installed in the planter near the Chamber of Commerce building at the corner of Lake and Main Sts. The lamps around the planter will be decorated with Christmas colors.

The Christmas lights will be up soon across the highways entering town, and the Christmas decorations will be up in the business district. Choral groups on street corners will sing Christmas songs throughout the holiday season. Groups from the Methodist Church, Antioch High School, Antioch Grade School and St. Peter's School will be among the groups.

Most of the stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. starting December 6 for Christmas shoppers.

Edgar Simonsen, Otto Hanke and George Boyd put up the Christmas tree in the planter near the Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday morning.

Bright and Cheery For Christmas

This promises to be one of the most festive Christmas seasons Antioch has seen, thanks to the hard work and cooperation of several organizations.

The Chamber of Commerce got an early start on its plans, with Santa arriving Saturday. The Christmas tree is up, and plans are all made for the street lights and decorations.

The Jaycees have their mail box all set to receive children's letters to Santa, and each child will get a letter from Santa in return. And the Moose are already looking for the most festively decorated home.

Stores will be open evenings from December 6th on, and shoppers will have a gay Christmas atmosphere in which to tour the stores. Choral groups will be singing all the Christmas favorites on street corners amid the holiday decorations.

Congratulations to everyone who worked and planned to brighten the town's face for Christmas. And whatever you have in mind for a Christmas gift, you can find it in the stores right here. Come and see.

It's An Ill Wind That Blows No Good

Demonstrations against the war in Viet Nam have brought a variety of responses. Latest is the release of two American prisoners by the Viet Cong.

The Communists were reportedly so pleased by the demonstrations that they decided to let the prisoners return home. At least two men and their families can be grateful for this unexpected result.

The draft-card burners and anti-war demonstrators have brought an upsurge of public sentiment backing the men fighting in Viet Nam, and the government's policies. So the return of two American fighting men can be regarded as a little extra bonus.

So let 'em demonstrate. Maybe we'll get some more of our men back.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

Issues are seldom important in primary elections, according to that school of political thought which scoffs at voter intelligence and insists that party clout and personality are the magic ingredients for polling place victory.

However, when you get a race as overlaid with candidates as the contest for the Republican nomination for State Senator in the southern district of Lake County threatens to be, it sometimes becomes necessary to discuss such mundane subjects.

At last count the senatorial candidates were threatening to outnumber the preliminary list for Sheriff in Lake County and it appears likely that most of the candidates now being listed will enter the contest.

Probably the most important single issue to confront the voters of Illinois in the balloting next November will be the long awaited, revamping of the Revenue Article in the state constitution, an amendment which is expected to receive bi-partisan support throughout the state.

The Illinois General Assembly finally put the matter on the referendum ballot and already State Treasurer William Scott and State Auditor Michael Howlett have spoken in support of the change in the revenue law.

From a popular voter viewpoint, elimination of the personal property tax will be the key provision of the revised article, but the steps taken to replace this revenue for local taxing bodies will have to be spelled out before solid support can be enlisted. Promises to "do something about the personal property tax" have been automatic pledges of legislative candidates in past years, but the voters will expect something more specific this time around if the Revenue Article amendment is approved. Personal property taxes provide a substantial part of the tax revenue collected by cities, villages, the county, schools and other municipal bodies and it appears likely that a state income tax will be imposed to replace the unpopular tax on personal property.

The position legislative candidates take on this issue could be a key factor in the primary elections next June.

Almost overlooked in political discussions has been the selection of a new Associate Circuit Judge to replace Judge Minard E. Hulse who is expected to retire when his present term ends in 1966 after 20 years on the bench. The leading candidates for the nomination will probably come from the ranks of the 14 magistrates now in office, although this number will be pared considerably because only those magistrates who belong to the legal fraternity can seek the judicial post.

Almost certain to be a candidate is Magistrate Eugene T. Daly who drafted the program for integration of the magistrates into the Circuit Court system under the Blue Ballot judicial amendment.

Better pay and more responsibility were the reasons given for the resignation of John Morris as superintendent of the Lake County Public Works Department, but

Antioch News
Antioch, Illinois
Dear Editor:

On Nov. 11 one of your readers, Miss Shirley S. Spack, contended quite erroneously that UNICEF funds have been misused to help finance the UN's operation in the Congo.

No UNICEF funds have ever been used for any purpose other than to assist programs of aid to needy children and mothers.

The misundersanding about an alleged loan to the UN was clarified in a speech to the House of Representatives by Congressman Walter H. Judd (R-Minn.) on August 14, 1962, of which Congressional Record, reprints are available at no charge. This document confirms that in May 1961, the State Department loaned $10 million to Secretary-General of the UN for use in his general budget.

In December of the same year, the money was reimbursed. It then became part of the U. S. contribution to UNICEF. At the time of the loan UNICEF had neither claim to, nor control over, that money.

Harland Cleveland, Assistant Secretary for International Organization Affairs, provided further assurance. The following is an excerpt from the Hearings of the Subcommittee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives, 87th Congress, Second Session. Mr. Cleveland was being interrogated by the Hon. Glenard P. Liscumb of California. Heading of Section: "Use of Funds provided by United States for United Nations Children's Fund."

"Mr. Liscumb: Mr. Secretary, the United Nations found it necessary to use temporarily the amount of $10 million paid by the United States for use by the United Nations Children's Fund. Has this money been returned to the United Nations Children's Fund or received by the United Nations Children's Fund?"

"Mr. Cleveland: It has been received. It was never actually taken from them. It was an advance payment by the United States to the Secretary General of funds that would later have been made available to the Children's Fund. Those funds have now been made available."

The enclosed informative booklet, "UNICEF—Facts and Fallacies," is at your readers' disposal.

Yours most sincerely,

Traffic accidents account for nearly half the accidental deaths of farm residents. Defensive driving is the best weapon a driver can use against the possibility of an accident. Defensive driving is vitally important when operating slow vehicles on the highways.

one wonders if county board bickering over the Public Works Department wasn't the primary reason. Morris moves to DuPage County where the program is further advanced and accepted as an integral part of county government and not as a whipping boy for dissident board members.

County board members will be voting soon on expansion of county facilities with the construction of an auxiliary building in Libertyville and an expansion program at the county home in Libertyville.

Shields Supervisor Alex Brebner sought to have the two items separated and considered individually at a recent board meeting, but was outvoted.

A similar move is expected when the subject is brought back to the floor and there is a good chance Brebner will be able to muster enough votes to separate additions to the county home from the proposed auxiliary.

Advocates of the separation would seem to be on solid ground in arguing that a vote against the auxiliary building, the need for which is open to question, shouldn't be a vote against added facilities at the county home which may be vital.

ALONG THE WAY with Annie Mae

Winter is here to stay, and with Christmas three weeks away it's time we started decorating, writing cards and do the balance of our shopping. Getting into the Christmas spirit early were Joe and Helen Storz who Saturday night threw a venison dinner with all the trimmings for firemen rescue squad members and their wives. Howard Shepard had another weekend away from it all, this time in Minnesota.

Farewell party for Ralph Gaston who leaves in a few days for the air force was held Saturday night with a gathering of relatives and friends. A get-well note to Bill Seemann who is hospitalized. A former Main street shoe store owner is reportedly trying to buy Weasels. Rumor has it that Robert and Bill Wilton bought the Antioch News building and plan an expansion. And the First National Bank plans to move into the State Bank Building when they relocate.

Another rumor is of a new doctor who will be settling in town around June 1st. Two businesses on their way out are Lora-A-Lyn and Rainbow Cleaners.

Sincerely,
Annie Mae

By Pearl Kapell.

Santa Claus will come to Antioch December 4, delighting the hearts of all the kids. Christmas can't come soon enough for them, and the days will drag till December 25.

Not so for grown-ups. This is when that panicky feeling begins that you'll never finish your shopping. Wrapping, etc. by Christmas Eve. The certainty grows with every day that passes—and how they fly by! They should pass so fast for youngsters.

If you're shopping for children, prepare to be dazed. Dolls now do everything that children do, and every little girl wants, each and every one of them.

Little girls could set up housekeeping on their own with the toys that are on the market today. In fact, little girls can practice all the arts of homemaking that most of their mothers have abandoned.

SHAMEFUL

The bill to repeal section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes the states to pass right-to-work laws, has failed so far as this session of Congress is concerned. It will come up again when the next session opens in January. This time, the bill's supporters in the Senate were unable to drum up the two-thirds vote that is needed to adopt cloture and thus prevent extended debate.

By January, Congress may think twice before supporting a law that would deprive the states of an essential right and the workingman of an essential freedom. Without right-to-work, the worker is totally at the union's mercy. He has only one choice—to join and pay dues, no matter what his own beliefs are, or to lose his job.

The Portland, Oregonian did a fine job of summing up the matter in a few words: "We fail to understand how a member of Congress can proudly take away the authority of whites to discriminate against Negroes in housing, education, voting, transportation and employment and in the next breath propose to deny free choice on unionism to all Americans, white and colored. . . . It is shameful that members of Congress elected on a platform of freedom and human rights should permit themselves to be bought or intimidated by organized labor to the degree of voting to withdraw the most basic right of an individual—to work or not to work as a free man."

David Lawrence writes in the New York Herald Tribune: "As far back as the days of Adam Smith—who two centuries ago wrote The Wealth of Nations—government—after government—has come a cropper because faith in the monetary unit has dwindled and its purchasing power has been seriously diminished. Inflation usually has ensued as prices and wages have risen. If this affected everybody in a community in a community at the same time, the transition would not be so painful. But when prices go up faster than individual income, the net result is a cessation of demand and a 'recession' or depression."

Schedule Session on Teacher's Salaries

School board members, superintendents of schools, local association leaders and classroom teachers are invited to participate. The meeting is open to anyone involved or interested in the formulation of local salary policy.

The session will start at 8:30 a.m. and end at 12:30 p.m.

We've even had our engineers take our test cars apart to see if they can make them smoother, quieter, and more luxurious. And they came up with improvements that, incredibly enough, make our Pontiacs even more enjoyable to drive.

Really, though—we don't care which one of our features gets you inside one of our new Pontiacs, just as long as it gets you there. And it will. At least judging by the number of Pontiacs you see on the road.

McClory Praises Servicemen

Congressman Robert McClory, who returned recently from Viet Nam, praised the American, Vietnamese and other forces fighting the Communist Viet Cong and North Vietnamese enemy.

"The military and civilian morale in South Viet Nam is very high," declared Congressman McClory. "With much tough fighting still ahead, a successful conclusion to the conflict should come within a year. The Vietnamese people as well as all Americans yearn for an early end to hostilities and a peace with honor."

In addition to his tour of Viet Nam, Congressman McClory visited military bases throughout the Far East, including those in Korea, Japan, Taiwan, the Philippines and Thailand.

Congressman McClory also visited civilian refugee centers in Saigon as well as the American Logistics Center at Cam Ranh Bay in central Viet Nam and the Army's First Division positions near Phu Loi in the Mekong Delta area.

A member of the House Judiciary Committee concerned with claims against the United States arising from overseas military activities, Congressman McClory was accompanied by other Judiciary Committee members during most of his trip to the Far East.

Savings Bond Sales In Lake County

Lake county residents purchased a total of $507,922 in series E and H United States savings bonds in October, according to Philip L. Speidel, Lak Forest, general county chairman of the savings bonds committee.

Sales in the State of Illinois were $25,239,705, according to Arnold J. Ruten, state director of the Treasury's Savings Bond Division. This is 7.1% less than sales last October and accounts for 6.8% of national sales which were $369,411,000. Illinois purchases for the first 10 months of this year reached 79.7% of the annual quota which is $358,100,000.

Do you think that can of "beer" looks good on a police matron's desk? Actually beer shouldn't even be at a police station.
Or is it a can that is there for a collection for the Policemen's dance?

Tsk, Tsk! How could you think such a thing, Mrs. Anonymous?

Rose Bushes And Trees Need Winter Protection

Rose bushes, fruit trees and some ornamental trees not only need protection from winter weather, but may need protection from rabbits and mice.

Lee Smith, Kenosha County Horticultural Agent, says mounding the soil and mulching is an excellent way to protect many of the tender ornamentals, but unless care is taken we may be inviting mice and rabbits to spend their winter in our yard or orchard at the expense of the plants.

Rodents are specially attracted to apples, cherries, plum and flowering crab. The mounding of soil around rose bushes makes attractive

You Can Share Xmas With Soldiers In Viet Nam

The 150,000 U. S. servicemen and women in South Viet Nam are a long way from home, and the distance will seem even longer for those GI's unable to be home for the holidays.

George Travers, volunteer chairman of military service programs for the Mid-America Chapter, American National Red Cross, says local residents who wish, may share their Christmas with a platoon of marines, a company of soldiers or other U. S. units in the fighting zone.

Travers said many folks have expressed to Red Cross a desire to send a parcel of Christmas cards, cookies, candy and other items to a whole unit of GI's stationed in Viet Nam. However, few persons know where to send the thoughtful gifts.

"If someone wishes to share Christmas with a GI unit in Viet Nam, he can mail a package directly overseas to the American Red Cross Field Director, stationed with the troops, said Travers.

He said the American Red Cross has field directors stationed with GI's all over Viet Nam. The Field Directors would distribute the gift parcels among as many of their troops as possible during the holidays.

"We won't be able to make a specific soldier happy by delivering a package from his home, but we can deliver a gift addressed to a unit of GI's," noted Travers.

Gifts should be wrapped carefully and postage must be paid by the local resident. The package should be addressed to: Field Director, American National Red Cross, and include the name and APO number of a fighting unit listed below: Fourth Corps, APO 96215 6251 Tac Ftr Wing.

First Corps, APO 96337
8th RRU, RPO 96308
3rd Marine Div., FPO 96601
3rd Eng. Group, APO 96312
Second Corps, APO 96295
1st Brigade, 101st ABN, APO 96437

First Cavalry, Air Mobile, APO 96490
First Infantry Div., APO 96345
173rd ABN Brig., APO 96227

He said gifts should not be mailed to Red Cross offices in this area, nor could his organization pay the postage for the sender.

More than 3,840,000 persons sustained injuries in automobile accidents last year. Driver error and lack of judgment were responsible for more than 85% of the highway casualties in 1964.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 5 THURSDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1965

Twilight is a beautiful time of day, but it can be a tricky period for the motorist. When you're driving in the setting sun, your speed should be reduced to compensate for the reduced visibility the low sun creates. Sun glasses help to overcome this hazard, but nothing takes the place of a reduced, safe speed.

Social Security Seeks 2 Million Missing Persons

The Social Security office located in Waukegan will be open on Saturday, December 4, 11 and 18 from 8:15 a.m. to 12:00 noon. In addition, evening hours from 4:45 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. will be established for the next three Mondays beginning December 6.

Bernard Barnett, Social Security District Manager in Waukegan, said that nearly two million persons are being sought in a huge missing persons hunt being conducted by the Social Security Administration. These people may be eligible for hospital and medical insurance benefits provided by recent changes in the law; consequently, in order to locate as many qualifying individuals as possible, the office will remain open as an added convenience for those who cannot call during regular hours.

The missing persons are divided into two groups, Barnett said. One group consists of people over 65 who have never filed a claim for benefits because they are still working. The second group is made up of persons over 65 who do not have enough credit for work under the social security program.

Barnett cautions all people, age 65 or over before January 1, 1966, that failure to sign up for Medicare before March 31, 1966, could result in lost protection when the program starts July 1, 1966.

Be sure you are right before turning left. The Institute for Safer Living says that an attempt to make a left turn from a wrong lane, or a last second scramble to get into the proper lane is a sure fire invitation to a collision. Except for certain instances such as expressway turnoffs, motorists should make a left turn from the left or inside lane and get into it well ahead of the intersection.

Only electric dryers give you the same kind of gentle radiant heat you get from the sun plug in a dryer full of sunshine

Flameless electric drying is gentle, because it works with radiant heat—like the sun. The only difference is it's controlled. You dial exactly the heat you need for the clothes you want to dry. There's no harsh over-drying or scorching. Whites stay white, colors stay bright, clothes keep their original fit. Another thing. Electric dryers are flameless—so there are no fumes or by-products of combustion. Clothes come out clean and fresh as all outdoors. And, a radiant electric dryer will cost you only $1.25 a month to operate.*

What is radiant heat? It's the kind of heat you feel from the sun on a warm day. It's not at all like the scorching heat you feel when you hold your hand over an open flame. The heating element in an electric dryer gives off radiant heat. So it dries gently like the sun. © C. E. Co.

Sequoits Take Mooseheart Title

Antioch ran the season's victory string to four games over the weekend by defeating Plainfield and Lake Park and copping the Mooseheart Tournament title.

The Sequoits opened the tourney Friday night against Plainfield and had to overcome a 23 to 17 first quarter deficit before rolling to an 83 to 65 victory.

The Sequoits scored 10 straight points to open the second quarter and then capped it with a 27 point burst in the final stanza, while holding their opponents to 11 and 17 points for the 3rd and 4th quarters.

Mike Sterbenz captured scoring honors for the Sequoits with 27 points while Tyrone Walls followed with 21. The Sequoits held a commanding 48 to 26 edge in rebounding. Walls and Sterbenz were also the leaders in this department. Larry Hansel led for the losers with 13 points.

In the second game of the tourney Friday night Lake Park also gained the finals by defeating host Mooseheart.

Sequoits Take Title

The Sequoits barely hung on to a seven point lead with only seconds to play Saturday night and took the Mooseheart title by winning 70 to 69 over Lake Park.

Antioch was in command for the opening two quarters and led 32 to 25 at half-time. In the third period the Sequoits' defense collapsed and Lake Park closed the gap to 49 to 46 by the time the period ended.

The Sequoits moved out again to open the fourth quarter but had trouble coping with an aggressive Lake Park press in the closing minutes and saw their lead whittled down to the final 70 to 69 margin.

Sterbenz paced the Sequoits in scoring for the second night in a row with 28 points followed by Tom Blackman with 19 and Walls with 14. Barnack led for Lake Park with 21 points.

Antioch will open the conference season Friday night against Round Lake and then return home Saturday night for another conference game against Grant.

Sequoits Outscore Visiting Falcons

Antioch's Sequoits successfully opened their home basketball season Wednesday night with an 82 to 63 win over the visiting Salem Falcons. The Sequoits outscored their opponents in every quarter as they easily controlled the game throughout.

Mike Sterbenz led the scoring for Antioch as three other Sequoits hit for double figures. Tyrone Walls, Mike Kelly and Tom Blackman had 15, 16 and 12 points respectively.

Antioch jumped out to a 20 to 15 first quarter lead and were never in trouble after that. The scrappy Falcons dropped behind another four points at halftime and then the Sequoits put on a 21 point burst in the third period putting the game out of range. Antioch showed a slim 47 to 41 lead in rebounding with Tyrone Walls doing most of the work with ten. The Sequoits hit on 31 of 78 shots from the field for 42% while Salem hit for 43% of their 58 attempts.

Russ Brings Home The Venison

Russ Lasco, Antioch, went deer-hunting up at Amasa, Michigan, for the first time this year. It won't be his last trip, though, he says.

He brought home a four-point buck weighing 160 pounds. He and some friends left Thursday afternoon (Thanksgiving Day) and were back home Saturday afternoon.

There were twenty inches of snow on the ground up at Amasa, Russ says.

Bags Three Deer On Hunting Trip

V. (Speed) Randall of Cross Lake will have plenty of venison for the family dinner, fable this year. He brought home three deer from a recent hunting trip to Amberg, Wis.

"Speed" bagged a six-point buck, an eight-point buck and the party doe in his one-week hunting trip from November 20 to 27. He was accompanied on the trip by Robert Beatty of Michigan; Ill., Ronald Marks of Pleasant Point, Ingleside, and Robert Drazt of Kenosha County.

This is the best luck he's had in the 12 years he's hunted deer, Speed reports. Last year he came home empty-handed. Deer were plentiful, he says—and so were the hunters.

BIRD-HUNTING SEASONS

Pheasant and Hungarian partridge seasons began at noon Saturday, Nov. 13, and will end at sunset Sunday, Dec. 12, the Illinois Department of Conservation has announced.

Hunters may take two cock pheasants a day and have four in possession after opening day. The daily bag limit for partridge is two per day and four in possession after opening day.

Quail season opens at noon Saturday, Nov. 13, and ends at sunset Sunday, Dec. 26. The daily limit is eight quail and the possession limit is 16 after opening day.

The possession limit for all species is the same as the bag limit on opening day. Hunting hours are from noon to sunset after opening day.

Indications are that hunters will not see as many pheasants as they did last year, but the quail population is equal to last year's crop. Partridge numbers are estimated to be as high as last year.

Ice Queen To Be Chosen At Fox Lake

Entries in the Ice Queen contest being conducted for the Fox Lake Festival on Ice are coming in thick and fast, reports Larry Leafblad, co-chairman of the event. At least two Antioch girls are among the early entries. The entry blank for the contest is in this paper.

The Fox Lake Festival on Ice will run January 7, 8 and 9. Highlight of the big weekend will be the International Ice Boat Races, to be telecast by ABC Television.

In addition to the Queen contest and the Ice Boat Races, there will be two dances, a regatta on ice, and family ice skating and tobogganing throughout the weekend.

Receives Award For Sharpshooting

Ed Koepke of Mellenry did some fancy sharpshooting recently when he broke 175 straight clay birds (trap shooting). He received a "175 straight" pin from Alcan Co., makers of the birds, for his feat.

Harry Stern, Indian Point, Antioch, was the recipient of a "25 straight" pin after he broke 25 birds in a row.

WATERFOWL BANDS IMPORTANT

William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, has asked for the cooperation of hunters who bag-banded waterfowl. "Information vital to the waterfowl management program is obtained from the leg bands placed on ducks and geese by state and federal conservation agencies," Lodge said.

"If a hunter who shoots a banded duck or goose wishes to retain the band as a souvenir he may do so, but he should mail the band number, and information telling where and when the bird was taken, to the address given on each band."

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The family of Adam V. Lipinski who passed away October 13 wish to thank the neighbors and friends of Channel Lake Shores Subdivision for their cards and expressions of sympathy.

Mrs. A. Lipinski (mother)

We have thought it over and decided not to rebuild Stowe's Hobby Barn. We wish to thank all who patronized us, the Antioch Fire Department for their quick response to our call and for the many kind offers of help. We also wish to thank the Antioch teen agers for showing us they all aren't like the few rowdies you read about.

Russ and Judy Stowe (23c)

SNEAK KILLER

In spite of repeated warnings, carbon monoxide claims victims from among the unwary almost daily. Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, said last week.

Closed windows, lack of proper ventilation and a faulty heating plant can be a deadly combination. Carbon monoxide is odorless and invisible. Last year 124 accidental deaths were reported in Illinois because of carbon monoxide; 86 of these occurred in the home. No records are available concerning the number of persons non-fatally poisoned by carbon monoxide.

Any fuel-burning heating appliance may be a source of carbon monoxide gas unless the appliance is adjusted, operating and vented properly. Special caution is necessary in homes with attached or basement garages. Neither autos nor any other gasoline-powered motor, should ever be run in a closed space. Charcoal should not be burned in confined areas or in defective fireplaces, Dr. Yoder said.

The Chicago Motor Club advises motorists that highways covered with snow and ice aren't the only slippery roads. Pavements wet with rain or melted snow are slippery enough to throw your car into a dangerous skid—if you don't drive carefully.
